

" I wish to become a Chef. "

Katarina, 16F

Becoming a chef is not only a profession, but an art. It takes creativity and skillful planning to create a meal that is pleasing to the palate as well as the eye. The design, taken conceptually and literally, is intended to help aid Katarina in learning the essence of becoming a chef. Real quotes and phrases from the students of Scottsdale Culinary Institute are included to remind Katarina that anything is possible and to continue to follow her dream.

By giving Katarina a blank canvas, she is able to create a piece of art that is her own, as well as experiment with different plating techniques by inserting the colored knives into the base. Adding acrylic to the plates helps to create a canvas for Katarina to insert the knives. We have represented stability of a cutting board and utensils by using wood for majority of the construction. The strength needed to becoming a chef is represented through the metal hardware.
